Project to improve access to Lostock Valley in Leyland has received a funding boost.

The Veolia Environmental Trust has awarded the Ulnes Walton Bridleways Association a grant of £7,000.

The cash will go towards reinstating the currently unusable path, on Moss Side Playing Fields, by replacing its surface with Troptree – a recycled product which is suitable for use by horses, wheelchairs, pushchairs and walkers.

A drainage system, fencing and educational signing will also be installed in the area.

The improvements aim to transform the old bridleway into a multi-use track.

Susan Taylor-Green, chairman of Ulnes Walton Bridleways Association, said: "We are delighted to have been awarded this grant by difference to the community of Leyland.

"The improved path will encourage physical outdoor exercise and engage local people with the environment.

ways Association was formed in 2003, following the death of a horse on a local road.

The association aims to raise awareness of road safety issues in the area, to improve
